

Program 2026

Date	Presenter and topic
15.01.2026	Kenneth Hugdahl, Bergen University To hear voices that do not exist – on the neurobiology of auditory hallucinations in schizophrenia
19.02.2026	Lucina Uddin, UCLA Structure and function of the human insula
19.03.2026	Salvatore Aglioti, La Sapienza Roma Moral thinking, compassion and empathy in healthy and brain-injured individuals
23.04.2026	Zaira Cattaneo, University of Bergamo The social and emotional functions of the cerebellum
28.05.2026	Katharina Henke, Universität Bern Unconscious episodic learning and retrieval during wakefulness, sleep, and amnesia
18.06.2026	Steve Majerus, Université de Liège Working memory: theoretical advancements and implications for neuropsychological assessment
27.08.2026	Elena Rusconi, University of Trento Gerstmann syndrome
17.09.2026	Sylvie Belleville, University of Montreal Cognitive training in later life: Evidence, Mechanisms, and Implementation for Clinical Practice
01.10.2026	Grant L. Iverson, Harvard Medical School Later-in-life brain health in former amateur athletes, professional athletes, and high exposure military veterans
08.10.2026	George Prigatano, Barrow Neurological Institute, Phoenix AZ Unawareness of cognitive impairment after brain injury
19.11.2026	Caroline Van Heugten, Maastricht University Neuropsychological intervention after acquired brain injury
10.12.2026	Simon Baron-Cohen, Cambridge University The prenatal sex steroid theory of autism

Note: All speakers confirmed, titles are subject to change. Please send any comments to neuropsychologie-hin@psychologie.ch